THURSDAY WILL BE GALA DAY IN SONOMA.

City Hall Corner Stone Will be Laid by Masonic Fraternity With Appropriate Ceremonies.

THE MAYOR OF SONOMA

JULIUS E. POPPE.

Thursday will be a gala day in Sonoma for on the historic plaza will be laid the corner-stone of the New City Hall. The building of this fine structure was made possible through the voting of $10,000 bonds, and the bringing of the matter to an issue was largely due to the efforts of Mayor J. E. Poppe and Trustee Pinelli, whose pictures appear on this page. These men, together with Trustees McDonell and Hotz put the bonding proposition before the people and our citizens carried it almost unanimously. It was a victory over slurrism and that victory is crowned with the new municipal

HAIL TO THE NEW SONOMA!

Hail to the New Sonoma!
For within this vine-clad land
Will soon rise up a city.
'Twill rival many grand.
For these are God's own acres
And destined soon to be
The Mecca of all travelers
And home of industry.
This piled stone is a symbol
Of all that is to come;
We're laying a foundation
For a city that will hum.
Show me a day in winter
As fair as some right here,
Show me a land of promise
So laden with good cheer
Rise up, oh noble structure!
Surveying all below.
Rise up, then keep thou vigil,
And watch Sonoma grow.

structure which is now being rapidly pushed forward and will be completed this year.

The building is one of which Sonoma may feel justly proud. It is to be constructed of stone from our own quarries and the architecture is the Old Mission style with tiled roof. On the first or ground floor provision will be made for the fire apparatus, city marshal's office and jail. A winding staircase will lead to the second story where will be situated the Trustees room and other offices. A. C. Lutgens, the San Francisco architect, drew the PUBLIC DRINKING FOUNTAIN.

This illustration shows the public drinking fountain erected at a cost of $238 by the Sonoma Valley Women's Club. It is built of stone and the architecture conforms with that of the New City Hall building, the plans for both having been drawn by the same architect, A. C. Lutgens. The fountain stands at the south entrance to the plaza opposite Broadway and adds much to the appearance of the city in addition to being of great utility.

Other plaza improvements will be made by the Women's Club when the City Hall is completed. The ladies have a fund which will be used to beautify the grounds around the new municipal building.

Will Mark the Beginning Of New Era for Sonoma.

NEVER before has the twenty-second of February meant so much to Sonoma, but this day in 1906, with the laying of the corner-stone of our New City Hall, marks the beginning of a new era. As much as we love tradition and honor the past, it is the new future of Sonoma that we now feel exultant over. It is the New Sonoma that we hail with joy for too long have we been wont to hear Sonoma spoken of as old Sonoma. The dawn of a new day broke full upon us with the carrying of the bond election last September. We were fortunate in having a majority of Trustees to realize that bonding was the modern way for a municipality that wanted to get in line with modern sister cities and the gentlemen of the Board finally presented the proposition of bonding to our voters. It was carried almost unanimously and was evidence enough that Sonoma had wide-awake, progress-loving people who had faith in the future of their town. Then came the election and at last its ratification and the purchase of the bonds by local capital.

We can well celebrate the laying of the corner-stone for it marks the triumph of progress over backwardness. It is the beginning of greater things. When the building rises up and finally stands completed it will be a splendid tribute to our present Board of City Trustees and the tax-payers of Sonoma. This building is destined to become the nucleus of a thrifty city with a population of not less than 5000 before many years roll round. Who knows if Sonoma county is ever divided, as is talked of, but what Sonoma might once again become a county seat.

When this comes about and the increased population with more beautiful homes, better transportation facilities, including an electric railway service and, perhaps, the scientific agricultural work of the west calling the world's attention to Sonoma Valley. Think then of the predictions made on this day by the INDEX-TRIBUNE, a copy of which will be sealed up in the corner-stone, showing the hopeful, confident spirit of 1906.

The newspaper which said that a city woman was hit with a broom made a sweeping assertion, as it were.

Club Meeting

The Sonoma Valley Woman's Club held a special meeting Wednesday afternoon to complete arrangements for the banquet which will be tendered the Masons and city officials next Thursday.

Robt. A. Poppe was present as the representative of the local Masonic lodge and stated that the Masons would provide everything for the banquet, but would leave all the arrangements to the club ladies. He turned over $30.00 to the secretary, being a portion of the cash collections up to that time. It was estimated that between one and two hundred guests will be seated at the banquet.

A committee of five club women on general arrangements was appointed by Vice President Stevens, as follows: Mesdames Poppe, Hot, Stoen, Clewe and P. S. line.

All the arrangements of the banquet will be under the supervision of the ladies who will set the tables, lay the linen, silver and glassware and so provide artistic decorations.

The club rooms will be used as reception headquarters and the banquet will be held elsewhere.

Dancing Party a Success

The initial dancing party given by the Sonoma Social Club last Tuesday evening was a decided success. There was a large crowd of young people present and all had a delightful time. Union Hall looked perfectly lovely and the color scheme being quite a contrast to former decorations. Blue and white garlands were used in profusion and garlands of roses and palms lent a charming effect to the scene. The dance was given by St. Valentine's society, having their red beards bearing various inscriptions. After turning the light, fantastic and delicious refreshments which had been provided by the club for the guests. The dancing party was in every way a success and the new club is to be congratulated.

SEED TIME

The experienced farmer has learned that some grains require far different soil than others; some crops need different handling than others. He knows that a great deal depends upon right planting at the right time, and that the soil must be kept enriched. No use of complaining in summer about mistakes made in the spring. Decide before the seed is planted.

ORIGIN OF THE WALTZ.

This Dance Was First Performed as a Religious Ceremony.

Of all the millions who waltz, who can tell how this famous dance originated? The story is a curious one. It is wrongly supposed that France received the waltz from Germany toward the close of the eighteenth century. The waltz did not emanate in its present form from the brain of a dancing master. Long before 1780, the time it is first mentioned under this name, it was displayed on the village greens. The waltz was first danced in the church and dances to trace the union between ancient civilization and that of the middle ages.

The sacred dance of the pagans is preserved to a certain extent in Christian rites. It is transformed to a series of revolutions made to the sound of the tambourine. St. Isidore, archbishop of Seville, born about A. D. 580, was intrusted by the council of Toledo with the revision of the liturgy as it was then practiced in the Roman church, in which there was a tambourine dance. The council decided to adopt the Isidorian liturgy in all Spain, and it differed but little from that used in other countries at that time.

This rite, celebrated before the eighth century, when the Moors first invaded Spain, was still celebrated by the Christians in the seven churches of Toledo, which the Moors abandoned after their capture of the city, and it was after that time called the Moorish rite. This was known and employed in Provence and Italy. The tambourine in use in this religious dance was called by St. Isidore "molte de symphonie," and evidently corresponded to the instrument which in the ancient sacred dances accompanied the flute, a sort of bagpipe invented two centuries before Christ. As the religious dance of the middle ages is allied to the ancient sacred dance so the waltz is an evolution of this religious dance, having passed through many changes before arriving in its present form. In the eleventh century, when the Gregorian rite supplanted the Moorish rite, the dance disappeared from the church. It appeared very quickly in society under the name of "carole," a word derived from the Latin "caroler."

THE CHAMELEON.

Some of the Peculiarities of This Very Curious Animal.

A most remarkable creature is the chameleon. To all appearances the nervous centers in one lateral half of this animal work independently of those in the other, and it has two lateral centers of perception—sensation and motion—besides the common one in which must reside the faculty of concentration. The eyes move independently of one another and convey separate impressions to their respective centers of perception. The consequence is that when the animal is agitated its movements resemble those of two animals or rather perhaps two halves of animals glued together. Each half wishes to go its own way, and there is no concordance of action.

Therefore the chameleon is the only four legged vertebrate that is unable to swim. It becomes so frightened when dropped into water that all faculty of concentration is lost and the creature tumbles about as if in a state of intoxication. When a chameleon is undisturbed every impulse to motion is referred to the proper tribunal, and the whole organism acts in accordance with its desires. The eye, for example, that receives the strongest impression propagates it to the common center, which then prevails upon the other eye to follow that impression and direct its gaze toward the same object.

Moreover, the chameleon may be fast asleep on one side and wide awake on the other. Cautiously approached at night with a candle so as not to awaken the whole animal at once, the eye turned toward the light will open, begin to move and the corresponding side to change color. The other side will remain for a longer or shorter time in a torpid, motionless and unchanged state with its eye fast shut.—Chicago News.

Cerberus' Three Heads.

The most famous of dogs is Cerberus, who watches the entrance to Tartarus. He has three heads, but Hercules dragged him to earth and Orpheus put him to sleep with his lyre. The original dog cakes were given to Cerberus by the silyl who led Aeneas through hell. They were made of flour and seasoned with poppies and honey. He must have been an opium fiend, as the celestial drug is made from poppies. A "sop to Cerberus" was one of these cakes given to the monster by Greeks and Romans as a bribe to let them in without molestation.

Reflected Glory.

A critic relates that he was once present in the cottage at Ecclefechan where Carlyle first saw the light, when an enthusiastic pilgrim asked in awestruck tones, "And is this really the room in which Carlyle was born?" and received from the guide the answer, "Aye, an' oor Maggie was born here too."

An Excavation.

"Pop?"
"Yes, my son."
"What is an excavation?"
"Why, an excavation, my boy, is a place from which dirt has been taken."
"Well, I suppose my face is an excavation, then?"—Yonkers Statesman.

That Settled It.

"Your new house is nearly completed, you say? I thought the plans didn't suit you at all."
"They didn't, but my wife and the architect insisted they were all right."
—Philadelphia Press.

There is no killing the suspicion that death has once begotten.—George Eliot.

$5.00 Reward.

Information wanted of William Henderson, George and Jane Henderson, who came to California during, or soon after, the war of the Rebellion. I wish to trace them and locate their final residence. Will reward information having that end.

Winter Route East.

When you think of going East, think of the Texas & Pacific, the true Southern Route, as it is called. We can plan for you an ideal Winter trip through the fertile San Joaquin Valley or down the picturesque coast line of the Southern Pacific via Los Angeles, journeying through the beautiful Orange and Olive groves of Southern California, getting a glimpse of the Old World civilization of Old Mexico en route and on through the Cotton fields of the Southland.

Pullman and Tourist sleepers to St. Louis and the East; a new and excellent dining car service—meals a la carte; stop-overs in visit the famous Hot Springs of Arkansas, if desired.

An Interregnum.

When President Hadley succeeded the learned and witty Timothy Dwight as president of Yale university the exercises attendant upon the transfer of authority were marred by a heavy fall of rain. It came down suddenly just as a column of people, President Dwight and Professor Hadley at the head, were crossing the campus. Some one handed the couple an umbrella, and Professor Hadley was about to open it when the other man took it from him, saying as he unfolded it:

"Let me carry it, professor. Your reign will begin tomorrow."

Kindness.

Do not be afraid of spoiling any one with kindness. It can't be done. Instead of spoiling it beautifies the character, cheers the heart and helps to raise the burden from shoulders which, though brave, sometimes grow very tired. Let not a little coldness frighten you away, for under a feigned exterior there is always to be found a tender chord which is to be touched by kindness and which responds in beautiful harmonies to those little acts of courtesy that are to the heart as sunshine is to the struggling plant.

Strictly Practical.

"Geology is a wonderful study," remarked the enthusiast.
"I suppose so," answered Sirus Barker, "but it always seemed kind of 'tantalizing' to me to be told where coal is and how it came there instead of being told how to get the price of it."—Washington Star.

Her Sacrifice.

"Did you ever make a personal sacrifice?" asked the visiting parson.
"Yes, indeed," replied Mrs. De Style. "I once declined to be interviewed by a society reporter."—Chicago News.
